

- Sing the vocal part.
- Play the instrumental parts.
- Analyse the chords of bars 1–9 (until the first beat). Use Arabic numbers for the structure of chords and Roman numbers for the degrees within the tonality of A minor and G major.
(See Exercises 5.4)

During the 17th century, in both melody and harmony, a vast gamut of musical/rhetorical figures are used for expressing emotions, picturing the shape of words, or imitating the sound of nature evolved.

See the following examples from Schütz's oratorio that emerged in the most dramatic moments of the piece.

5.5 DIE SIEBEN WORTE JESU CHRISTI AM KREUZ, "MICH DÜRSTET" – JESUS Heinrich Schütz

Musical score for "MICH DÜRSTET" by Heinrich Schütz. The score is in bass clef and 7/4 time. It features a vocal line with the lyrics "Mich dürstet." and instrumental parts for Violins and Continuo. The Continuo part shows a complex chord progression with many accidentals.

5.6 DIE SIEBEN WORTE JESU CHRISTI AM KREUZ, "ES IST VOLLBRACHT" – JESUS Heinrich Schütz

Musical score for "ES IST VOLLBRACHT" by Heinrich Schütz. The score is in bass clef and 7/4 time. It features a vocal line with the lyrics "Es ist vollbracht, es ist vollbracht." and instrumental parts for Violins and Continuo. The Continuo part shows a complex chord progression with many accidentals.

- Sing the above excerpts with instrumental accompaniment.
- Analyse the chords in relation to the words. Notice the contradiction between the tonal system of the melody and the chord progression.
